THE issue of the twenty-fifth volume is a matter of congratulation to all interested in the history of the County. In the series three volumes contain matter entirely unknown until quite lately; they are Gerard's Survey of the County (unfortunately not complete), the cartulary of Muchelney Abbey, and the cartulary of Mynchin Buckland Priory now issued to subscribers.

A cartulary of Cleeve Abbey which was certainly in existence in the eighteenth century, still remains hidden. Of the various classes of records taken in hand, the Medieval Wills and the Pedes Finium have been completed, the latter down to 1485, and the wills to the date when the Rev. F. Brown began his labour of transcription. The Plea Rolls have hardly been touched, and the Episcopal Registers and the Quarter Sessions Records contain a quantity of unused material. There is plenty of work for the Society in future years, if it can retain sufficient support.

The number of subscribers is the same as last year. Three names have been removed, and three added, including the John Rylands Library at Manchester. Twenty-three Public Libraries and Institutions are subscribers, ten of which are beyond the Atlantic. This seems to point to a growing appreciation of the Society's work among those qualified to judge.

Introduction.

THE MS., which was bequeathed to the Somersetshire Archæological and Natural History Society by the late Mr. J. Brooking Rowe, F.S.A., consists of seventy-eight leaves of parchment written on both sides and measuring 16 inches by 11¼ inches. The title, is stamped on the leather binding and measures externally 4½ inches by 2½ inches. It was formerly protected by a horn covering (traces of which remain) supported at the edges by narrow strips of leather, and secured to the oak board of the MS. by twelve brass nails. There are signs that some leaves have been lost: the MS. ends with the word "Rogero."

BUCKLAND PRIORISSE

The earliest date in the Cartulary is 1152 (p. 171) and the latest 1423 (p. 187); 1138 (p. 180) is an error for 1188, as is proved by the mention of Garner de Neapolis as Grand Prior.

The MS. is very corrupt and shows signs of having been dictated to the scribe, the variations in the names of witnesses are numerous and confusing. I append a typical example, seven variations in the name of one man, taken from seven consecutive charters—

Nictore de Hale [No. 108].
Victore de la Hara [No. 109].
Victore de la Hale [No. 110].
Victore de la Heale [No. 111].
Victore de Hale [No. 112].
Victore de la Ele [No. 113].
Victore in Thale [No. 114].

The Index will reveal many other instances of careless spelling.

Buckland Priory, situate in the parish of Durston, co. Somerset, consisted of two communities, each with its separate church. (1) a Preceptory of the Knights Hospitallers ; (2) the only nunnery of the order, called Minchin Buckland, Sustrenbokelond [No. 46] and Buckland Sororum [No. 348].

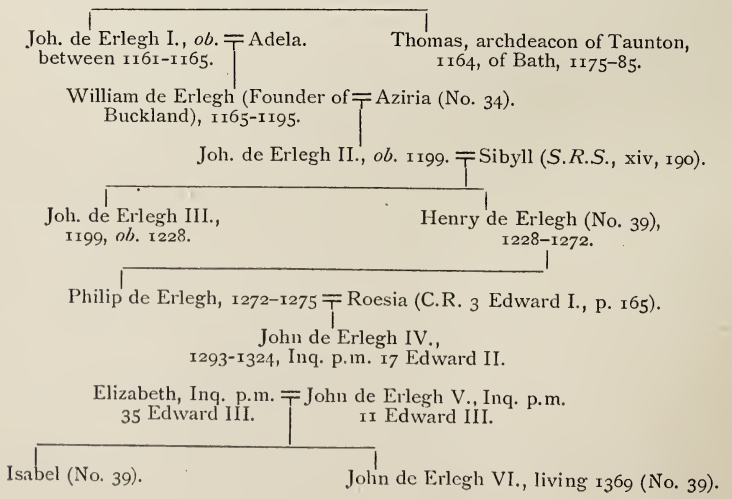
Bishop Tanner in his Notitia Monastica says that "in the reign of King Henry II., William de Erlegh founded here a house of Regular Canons, who having killed his steward and done other unjustifiable acts, were suppressed and removed to other houses. But that King granted all their lands to the Knights Hospitallers, A.D. 1180, upon condition that they should place here all the sisters of their order, which before lived in several of their Preceptories." No. 3 speaks of the removal of certain canons who lie hid at Buckland without the rule of a pastor ; and Nos. 4, 5, and 6 give the names of seven canons and one lay brother, and also the houses to which they were removed.

The first portion of Hugo's Nunneries of Somerset (pp. 1–248) contains a long and interesting account of Mynchin Buckland Priory. To this we refer our readers. The matter in this Introduction is not to be found there.

PEDIGREE OF THE ERLEGH FAMILY.



In compiling the above pedigree, I have followed in the main the notes drawn up by the Rev. E. H. Bates Harbin in S.R.S., xiv (Index); though there are slight variations in dates, founded upon Inquisitions post mortem, and his John V. becomes my John VI. Collinson II. 198, gives a much fuller pedigree of the family, but at the beginning of it he inserts a second William, for whom I cannot find room.

The Erlegh family took its name from the Manor of Erle, sometimes called Earley Whiteknights, in the parish of Sunning (Berks) (see Feudal Aids, Berks, 47.56.70 and Lysons's Berks, p. 380) and gave its name to Somerton Parva or Somerton Erlegh in the parish of Somerton, Somerset.

The family held the office of Chamberlain to the King as appears from the following document quoted in the Red Book of the Exchequer, p. 235, A.D. 1166 Sumersete :—

> Domino suo Regi Anglorum, Willelmus de Erleiga fidele servitium.
> Sciatis domine, quod de feodo meo debeo esse Camerarius vester et habeo j militem feffatum [or feodatum] scilicet Thomam de Bercham de antiquo feffamento et nullum de novo feffamento. Valete.

Under date 1210–12 we find "John de Erlega debet esse camerarius et in Berkesyre tenet feodum unius militis [et] tenet terram in Sumertone" [R.B.E. p. 547].

From the Calendarium Genealogicum I. 244 No. 72 under date 4 Ed. I. (1276) we read that "Henry de Erlegh was 'nuper defunctus'; his son Philip was tenant in chief for a short time [P.R. 3 Ed. I. p. 100] but died very soon after his father. In the Close Rolls 3 Ed. I. p. 165, 1275, May 11, the King learns that Philip de Erlegh, tenant in chief, is dead and the long wardship of his son John was committed to Thomas de Cantelupe, Bishop of Hereford (C.R. 6 Ed. I. p. 458). John came of age in 1293, the King took his homage on 13 Jan. in the 20th year of his reign" [C.R. 22 Ed. I. p. 353].

The reason why the Bishop of Hereford wished for the Wardship of John is curious :—"Whereas Thomas Bishop of Hereford who is of the King's Council frequently comes to the King and has not any lodging (receptaculum) wherein he can conveniently stay (declinare) in coming to the King from his parts, or in returning, for which reason he has requested the King to commit to him until the heirs of Henry de Erleg, tenant in chief, come of age, the Manor of Erleg near Reading, which belonged to the said Henry, etc." (C.R. 4 Ed. I. p. 268)

The Berkshire and Somerset branches seem to be inextricably mixed up ; and the numerous references in the Red Book of the Exchequer to both branches do not help the unravelling, but there is proof that at one time the Berkshire branch, apparently a junior one, held under the Somerset branch ; this is proved by the following Inquisition. Inq. p.m. Ed. II. p. 10 [No. 37] :—

William de Erle. Writ 15 Jan. 1 Ed. II.

Berks. Inq. Monday after the Purification 1 Ed. II. Erle, a messuage, etc., 126 acres arable in a close, 48 acres arable in the common field, 13 acres meadow, 8 acres pasture, 8 acres wood in a close called "Le park" with deer, 7 acres alder-wood, a fishery in the Thames, and rents (extent given with names of tenants) held of Sir John de Erle by service of two attendances yearly at his court of Erle, and rendering 2*s.* for a parcel of land in the park. John, his son, aged ten, is his next heir.

Inq., 17 Ed. II. [No. 57 in the old folio edition.]

John son of William de Erleghe.
Erle maner' extent'. Berks.

The following Inquisition refers to Sir John de Erlegh under whom William de Erlegh held, the same John de Erlegh, who was a ward of the Bishop of Hereford :—

John de Erlegh. 17 Ed. II., No. 62.

He held the manor of Erlegh, Berks, the manor and hundred of North Petherton, the hamlet of Somerton parva, the manor of Durston, 5*s.* of rent in Michaelchurch and the manors of Babcary and Beckington in Somerset.

John is his son and heir of the age of sixteen years. (Inq. p.m. below.)

John de Erlegh. Inq. 11 Ed. III., No. 11.

The same property with the addition of land in Purye, probably brought to him by his wife Elizabeth.

John is his son and heir of the age of four years. His "probatio etatis" is given in 28 Ed. III.

Elizabeth que fuit uxor Joh. de Erle. Inq. 35 Ed. III., No. 77, held in dower the manor of Somerton Erlegh, the manor of Babcary and the hamlet of Pury. John is her son and heir of the age of twenty-eight years.

The Erleghs seem to have disappeared from Berks and Somerset at about the same time—

1401. Robert Erle held one-fortieth of one f.m. in Berks. (Feudal Aids, 56.)

1428. Thomas Overy holds one f.m. in Berks which John de Arle, "dictus Whythknyght," held. (Feudal Aids, 70.)

Inq. 45 Ed. III., No. 17*, John de Erlegh, chevalier, enfeoffed Richard Brice and Edith his wife of the manor of Somerton Erlegh and the advowson of the chapel, retaining to himself the manors of Babcary, Durston, and Bekington.

1431. Isabella Erlegh de Bekyngton "widow" held certain lands and tenements in Bekyngton by service of 1 f.m. (Feudal Aids, Somerset, 425.)

In the above brief account of the Erleghs, I have not attempted to give a full history of the family; that is left to a future historian; my object has been to deal as fully as possible with those members of the family who are mentioned in the Cartulary.

It is interesting to note that the Erleghs were related to Reginald, Bishop of Bath; the latter speaks of his very dear kinsman, Thomas de Erlega, his archdeacon. (S.R.S., viii, 34.)

I give a few references to other Erleghs, not included in the foregoing notes:—

Herbert de Erlegh of Kilmersdon. (Cartulary No. 1.)

Robert de Erlegh of Kilmersdon. (Cartulary No. 34.)

1174–92 Adam de Erlegh. (Wells Cath. MSS. 39.)

1194 Thomas de Erlegh held ½ f.m. in Berks. (Red Book Exch., 94.)

1200 (circa) Master Reginald de Erleia. (S.R.S., vii, 9, 10.)

1275 Sir Roland de Herlegh, knight, appointed to the custody of the house of Leominster (Herefs.) a cell of Reading Abbey. (P.R. 4 Ed. I., p. 128.)

1279 Henry de Herlegh holds ¾ of j f.m. in Newtown in Kilcooly in co. Kilkenny. (P.R. 8 Ed. I., p. 353.)

1291 Sir Roland de Erlegh. (Wells Cath. MSS. 152.)

1316 John son of Bartholomew de Erle. (Feudal Aids, Berks, 47.)

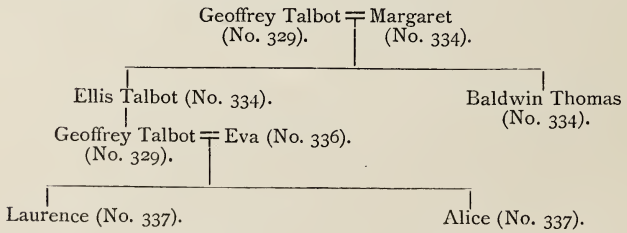
Geoffrey de Erlegh and William de Erlegh. (S.R.S., xiv, 190.)

N.B.—Odo de Derleghe (Feudal Aids, Somerset, 293), although indexed under Erlegh, has nothing to do with that family, but was evidently of Durleigh, Somerset.

TALBOT OF HEATHFIELD.



N.B.—Edmund Talbot is mentioned in No. 338. Collinson (II. 253) speaks of Gilbert Talbot as predecessor of Laurence.

The following extracts from the Patent, Close and Charter Rolls give interesting particulars of Buckland Priory :—

1229. Sept. 20th. Faversham. Gift in frank almoin to the prioress of Bocland and the sisters of the order of the Hospital of Jerusalem, for the support of three girls there, of a livery of 2½*d.*, which Roger, chaplain of the bishop of Lincoln, used to receive daily from the Sheriff of Herefordshire of the King's established alms ; and of a livery of 2*d.*, which Margaret, nurse of Isabel, the King's sister, used to receive daily from the same source; the said sums to be receivable at the Exchequer, half at Easter, and half at Michaelmas.

[Charter Rolls I, p. 99. C.R. Hen. III., 1227–31, p. 65. P.R. Hen. III., 1225–32, p. 266.]

1232. Nov. 11th. Lambeth. For Agnes who was the wife of William Earl of Arundell. Mandate to P. de Rivall that each year as long as the land of the Earl of Arundell shall be in the King's hand, he shall pay to Agnes daughter of William formerly Earl of Arundell, who is a nun at Bocland 40*s.* for the said land because the King said that the said Agnes used to receive each year 40*s.* in the time of the said Earl of his gift to maintain herself, and also in the time of H. de Burgo whilst the said land was in his hand. [Close Roll Hen. III., 1231–34, p. 165.]

1234. April 12th. Westminster. Mandate to P. de Rivall that he give to the sisters of Bocland thirty oaks in the King's wood which is called the park of Neweton to rebuild their houses which were burnt. [do. p. 402.]

1234. April 12th. Westminster. Mandate to the Treasurer to give to each of the sisters of Bocland, "tunica et unum par sotularium in denariis." [do. p. 405.]

The above entry is cancelled, "quia inde factum est liberate de posteriori data."

1236. June 29th. Bristol. Mandate to Richard de Wrotham to give to the nuns of Bocland forty oaks in the park of Perton for the fabric of their church of the gift of the King. (C.R. Hen. III., 1234–37, p. 282.)

1237. May 6th. Windsor. Mandate to the Treasurer that after they have paid to the messengers of the Lord Emperor the money at present owing to him, they shall pay to the nuns of Bocland £50.

1275. July 21st. Grant to the preceptor of Boclaund, at the instance of brother William de Hanlee, of the custody, during the minority of his heirs, of the manor of Northperton, late of Philip de Erleye, tenant-in-chief, at a rent of £21, saving the advowson of the church, knight's fees, wards, reliefs and escheats. [P.R. Ed. I., 1272–81, p. 100.]

1278. To the barons of the exchequer.

Whereas the King for a fine of £200 granted to Thomas bishop of Hereford the custody of the lands of Philip de Erleye, and it was found by inquisition that the custody of the manor of N. Petherton co. Som. which the King had granted to brother Joseph, prior of the Hospital of St. John of Jerusalem in England, and to brother Richard, warden of the House of the said Hospital of Bocland, for £21 yearly, ought to pertain to the bishop and £4 9*s.* 2½*d.* are subtracted from Joseph and Richard's ferm aforesaid for the dower of Roesia late the wife of the said Philip, and 5 marks are assigned to her for the increment of the extent of the manor so that Joseph and Richard shall pay to the exchequer the remainder of the ferm, to wit, £13 4*s.* 1½*d.*; the King orders the barons to cause them to pay the latter sum to the bishop until Philip's heirs come of age. [C.R. Ed. I., 1272–9, p. 462.]

1306. October 20th. Lanercost.

Licence for the alienation in mortmain by Thomas de Berkelay to the prioress and sisters of Boclond of two shops in Welles. [P.R. Ed. I., 1301–7, p. 466.]

1339. May 12th. Berkampstead.

To the arrayers of men-at-arms in co. Som.

Order to supersede the distraint made on the sisters of the order of the Hospital of St. John of Jerusalem in England of Bocland, to find a man-at-arms for the custody of the maritime land in co. Dorset by reason of the lands of the prior of that Hospital in that county, from which the sisters are maintained, while the prior finds thirty men-at-arms for the custody of Southampton, as the sisters are found by alms and the distribution of the prior and brethren of the Hospital and have nothing wherewith to live except by the ministration of the prior and brethren. [C.R. Ed. III., 1339–41, p. 124.]

1346. November 26th. Tower of London.

Pardon to John Dodemor of Lodelowe of his outlawry in the co. of Somerset for non-appearance before the Justices of the Bench to answer touching a plea of the prior of the Hospital of St. John of Jerusalem in England that he render an account for the time when he was bailiff and receiver in Bukelond: on certificate by John de Stonore, chief Justice, that he has now surrendered to the Flete prison. [P.R. Ed. III., 1345–8, p. 212.]

1420.
15 Kal. Jan.
St. Peter's, Rome.

To John Toker, a Friar Minor, Licence, he having completed his fiftieth year and having been a Friar Minor since he completed his thirteenth year, to enter without requiring licence of his superiors the cell or hermitage (cella vel inclusorium) which has been built for one religious near the church of the Hospitallers house in Boklond in the diocese of Wells, cause himself to be enclosed and remain therein perpetually. [Papal Letters, vii, p. 180.]

The following extracts from Rawlinson MS. B. 419 (Bodl. Lib.) fos. 281, 281b, 288–292, give some particulars of annuities and grants, made by the Hospital and ratified by the King, or else made directly by the latter :—

Indenture of Alexander Pole, Joan his wife and John their son for lands and tenements in N. Petherton formerly held by John Sergear, date Oct. 1, 26 Hen. VIII.

John Worthe, arm., relinquishes an annuity of £22 and receives one of £24 0*s.* 10*d.* issuing from the manor of Buckland, 27 Feb., 31 Hen. VIII.

Indenture of John Popham for the "firma" of the rectory of Kyrton (Lincs.), 12 Nov., 31 Hen. VIII.

Indenture of John Worthe arm. for the rectory of N. Petherton. Dated July, 31 Hen. VIII.

Indenture of Walter Jesoppe, Thomas his son and Jone the wife of said Thomas, and Walter and Henry, sons of the said Thomas and Jone, re the manor of Chilcombe with its appurtenances in co. Dorset, 11 Jan. 21 Hen. VIII.

Annuity of John Butler of 13*s.* 4*d.* granted for good advice given to the community. [Confirmed] 1 August, 30 Hen. VIII.

Confessions in Lent.

De confessionibus in quadragesima et portacione ad crucem iij m. [No. 14].

The meaning of the latter portion of this sentence is involved in obscurity, but that fees for hearing confessions in Lent were paid to the Vicar is obvious from several passages in the Registers of Bishops printed by the Canterbury and York Society; and sometimes they were paid in kind—corn for instance; the following occurs in the diocese of Hereford:—

1283. We decree that—

"porcione vicarie ab antiquo taxata salva ei et integra remanente, in augmentum porcionis sue recipiat annuatim a blada a devotis parochianis oblata de villis de Westone, Muchale, et Hopton, in suis confessionibus, quod in partibus istis chystcorn appellatur." (Cant. and York Soc., xvii, p. 64.)

1304, June 13. Ordinance for the income of the vicarage of Newland (Heref. diocese)—

"item vicarius percipiet oblaciones quadragesimales in confessionibus audiendis que estimantur ad 6/8." (do. xix, p. 411.)

Collections for the Hospital of St. John of Jerusalem.

Nos. 91, 94, 96, 97, 98. Speak of collections for the fraternity of St. John of Jerusalem.

Light is thrown on this by an extract from the Register of R. de Swinfield, Bishop of Hereford—

1291, Jan. 25. Instructions of the archbishop and bishop that the usual collections for the Hospital of St. John of Jerusalem should be allowed, the papal prohibitions not applying to them. (Cant. and York Soc., xix, p. 253.)

The Sisterhood.

The sisters of Buckland were of good social standing.

In 1232 Agnes, daughter of William, formerly Earl of Arundell, was a nun here. [C.R. Hen. III. 1231–4, p. 165.]

On Aug. 25, 1311, there is a licence for the alienation by Thomas de Berkelee to the prioress and sisters, in aid of the sustenance of his daughter Isabel, a sister of the hospital, and for the term of her life, of a rent of £4 issuing out of lands in Hamme, which Thomas de Stane holds of him. [P.R. Edw. II. 1307–13, p. 385.]

From 1301 to 1307 she was prioress (Hugo, pp. 39, 44, 49, 50) but apparently had resigned the office before 1311.

In 1337 Katharine de Erlegh, a descendant of the founder, was Prioress. Hugo, p. 50.

List of Prioresses.

[Hugo, p. 109.]

1180. Fina. She is the only prioress mentioned in the Cartulary [No. 19]. She is said to have been prioress for 60 years, 1180–1240, and to have lived in the times of seven Grand Priors of England.

1280. Alienor de Actune.

1292, 1301. Isabel la Louwe.

1330–7. Isabel de Berkeley.

1337. Katharine de Erlegh.

1371. Mary.

1405, 1430. Alice Crok [Risdon's Survey of Devon (1811), p. 229].
1492. Elizabeth.
1526. Katharine Boucher.

Grand Priors of England.

A List of the Grand Priors of England is to be found in MS. Cott. Nero E. vi, f. 467b, and has been printed by Hugo, p. 216. I fear it is not very accurate.

The following Grand Priors are mentioned in the Cartulary :—

1185. Walter [Nos. 224, 269].
Garner de Neapolis [Nos. 4, 5, 78, 80, 335, 350].
Gilbert de Vere [Nos. 167, 176].
Hugh d'Alneto [Nos. 15, 86].
Robert the Treasurer [No. 177].
1236. Terricus de Nussa [Nos. 18, 33, 130, 149, 193, 233, 248].
Robert de Maneby [No. 143].
1253. Elias de Smetheton [Nos. 144, 251].
1272. Roger de Vere [Nos. 19, 20, 190, 199, 213, 215, 221, 234, 239].
1275. Joseph de Chauncy [No. 40].
1287. William de Haunlee [Nos. 30, 211, 235, 236, 241, 268, 322].
1295. Peter de Hacham [No. 16 ; (locum tenens) 121].
H. de Slyme [No. 134].
William de Vallibus [No. 141].
1308. William de Tottehale [Nos. 81, 151, 178, 215, 240, 245].
1319. Richard de Pavely [No. 198].
1329. Thomas Larcher [No. 31, and see 81].
1360. John de Paveley [No. 200].
1377. Robert de Hales [No. 218].
1383. John de Radington [Nos. 21, 191].
1408. Walter Grendon [No. 42].

[The dates are those given in the Cartulary, but the whole affair is complicated by the fact that many of the priors were locum tenentes for the Grand Prior when he was absent from England, see Nos. 121, 268.]

PRECEPTORS OF BUCKLAND.

1187. Hugo de Binford [No. 350].
1267–81. Ric. de Brampford [Nos. 48, 190, 221, 234, 239, 268].
1329. John Denglond [No. 32].
Ralph de Dames [No. 59].
Roger de St. Botulph [No. 76].
John de Messingham [Nos. 77, 151].
Gregory [No. 86].
Hilbrand Inge [Nos. 123, 218].
Hildebrand Wotton [No. 124].
Nich. de Chilbauton [Nos. 36, 158, 159, 163].
Ric. de Rotundo Fugereto [No. 327].
Geoffrey de Cheyne [Nos. 321, 328].
Master Walter [No. 331]. This document lies 1174 – 91.
1364. Daniel de Carreto, Papal Letters, iv, p. 7.

The following extra names (he gives six in all) are from Hugo, p. 110:—

1321. John de Wherewell.
1338. John Diluwe.
1420. Will. Hullys.
1536. Ric. Mareis.

THE PRECEPTORY OF BOTHEMESCOMBE alias BODMESCOMBE.

This preceptory was situated in the parish of Uffculme, Devon, and was closely associated with the priory of Buckland: "priorissa et sorores nostre bajulie de Bokeland et Rodemescombe (sic)" [No. 22]. In No. 235 the preceptor of Bodmyscumbe is styled "the custodian of the alms of the poor in Devon." It was a separate preceptory in 1338 (Camden Soc. 65), but it had been apparently absorbed into Buckland before the Dissolution. In a lease dated January 20th, 1500–1, we read of The Preceptory of Buckland Priors, in the County of Somerset, with the manors of Bodmescombe and Cove [its "membrum" situated in Tiverton] in the county of Devon, to the said Preceptory appertaining (Hugo, p. 80).

The Cartulary mentions the following Preceptors:—

Walter Fitz Pain [No. 208].
1267. Roger Archibaud [Nos. 190, 221, 239].
1272–1281. John le Sauvage [Nos. 234, 268].
1287–1289. Hugh de Bideford [Nos. 210, 211, 241].
1302. John de Messingham [No. 294].

PRECEPTORS OF MAYNE, DORSET.

1253. G. de Manby [No. 251].
G. de Cheyne (before 1270) [No. 239].
1281. William de Weston [No. 268].

PRECEPTOR OF TOLLER, DORSET.

1307. John de Messyngham [No. 178].

PRECEPTOR OF TRYBYHAN, CORNWALL.

1281. William de Cosynton [No. 268].

CARTA LORETTÆ COMITISSÆ LEICESTRIÆ[1] DE DIVERSIS TERRIS DICTO HOSPITALI CONCESSIS.

[Charter Rolls (11 Hen. III.), I, p. 52.]

Notum sit omnibus Christi fidelibus tam presentibus quam futuris, hoc scriptum visuris vel audituris, quod ego Loretta, comitissa Leycestriæ dedi et concessi Deo et B.M. et S. Joh. Bapt. et beatis pauperibus domus hospitalis Jerusalem ad sustentacionem sororum de Boclaunde Deo servientium et ad inveniendum quendam capellanum, fratrem, in eadem domo, qui cotidie et perpetuo missam in honore B.V.M. in majori ecclesia apud Bokland ad altare B.V. celebret pro salute animæ meæ, domini Roberti, viri mei, comitis quondam Leicestriæ: et pro salute animarum patris mei, matris meæ et omnium antecessorum et successorum meorum totam terram meam de Noteston[1] et totam terram meam de Yvesford citra aquam et ultra aquam et lxiiij acras de dominico meo super Ruwedon, et totam terram meam de Ridescot et de Hele,[2] et de Cherlecote, et de Tunecote, et de Bozeburn, et totam terram, quam tenet Philippus ad viam, cum hominibus predictas terras tenentibus. Et præterea centum acras de dominico meo in Fremesmore [Bremmesmore, Dugdale] et boscum meum qui vocatur Ancwood et unum ferlingum ad Rottheye cum omnibus pertinentiis ejus in manerio de Toustok cum pasturis et omnibus aliis ad predictas terras pertinentibus. Et præterea omnimodam communam inter gentem meam ubique libere et quiete, habendam et possidendam in perpetuam et puram elemosinam, sicut ulla elemosina liberius et quietius dari potest. Et ut hæc mea donatio futuris temporibus perpetuæ firmitatis robur optineat, eam presentis scripti munimento cum sigilli mei appositione dignum duxi roborare.

[1] 1190—1204. Robert de Beaumont, Earl of Leicester, Seigneur of Breteuil and Pacy in Normandy, Steward of England, called from his mother's name FitzPernell, second son but heir to his father's dignities being invested with the earldom, 1 Feb., 1191, at Messina. He acted as Steward at the Coronation of King John, 27 May, 1199. He married Lauretta, daughter of Wm. de Braose; he died s.p. 6 Jan., 1204, and was buried in Leicester Abbey. His widow became a recluse at Hackington, Kent, but was dead before 1208, for in that year Philip, King of France, confirms to the monks of Lire all that Laureta quondam Comitissa Leycestriæ had given.—G. E. C. Peerage.

HIIS TESTIBUS:

domino Philippo de Alben' domino Rogero de la Cuche [Zuche].
Ada filio Houdebrandi.
Magistro Umfrido canonico Cycestrensi.
Magistro Reginaldo de Mereston.
Willielmo capellano de Bukingeham.

[1] Natson, Rowden, Charlicot, Hele, Brinsworthy, Rescot, Tunicot and Yellaford are all to be found on the Ordnance Map in or near Tawstock, 2½ miles from Barnstaple.

[2] The manor of Hele alias Templand or Templeton in the parish of Tawstock was most probably the third part of the manor of Tawstock given by Lora, Countess of Leicester, to the nuns of Minchin Buckland.—Lysons' Devon, p. 478*n*. This "Hele," mentioned in the Cartulary [No. 19] must be distinguished from "Hale" in [No. 192]. For the grant in 1542 of the manor of Hele nr. Tawstock to the Abp. of Canterbury and by him to John Wyndham, see Letteers and Papers Hen. VIII., xvii, g. 443 (15), 1012 (57).

[3] Lambert was sub-dean of Wells in 1219.—Le Neve's Fasti, I, 156.

Gift by William de Erlegh, for the health of King Henry and Queen A. and their son King Henry and their other sons and daughters, and for the help of his own soul and the soul of his wife and son, and all his ancestors, to the canons of Bokeland, of all his land of Bokeland and whatsoever he had of right therein to plant there the canonical religion by the hand of Thomas the Archdeacon, his uncle; [also] the church of Perreton, with all its appurtenances, and the land which Walter the priest, son of Rodbert son of Leweric, holds, which pertains to the church, and the church of Bekynton with all its appurtenances, and the church of Kyngmersdon, with the land which Herberd de Erlegh held, which is computed at half a hide, or from ancient time pertained to the church of Kynemeresdon, and with its other appurtenances; and the chapel of Durston to serve God in perpetual alms, with all liberties and free customs; also one virgate of land at Sumerton with the meadow of his demesne of Hibroc and two curtilages in the vill of Lenga, and the land of Willehestoche, and the meadow of Sydewere, with the fishery of Swyftestrem in free and perpetual alms. And that the canons who are about to give themselves up to the aforesaid place of God and St. Mary and St. Nicholas may possess all these services freely and quietly from all secular action in wood, in plain, in meadows and feedings, in fishponds and pools, in moors, and fisheries, and common of grove of the moor of Poderton, to the said canons to their own proper use for ever, he confirms this gift and grant by the attestation of his charter and seal.

No. 2. Confirmacio Willelmi de Erlegh de Bukeland et ecclesia de Bekynton.

Confirmation by William de Erlegh for the health of his soul and the souls of his father and mother and of his uncle T[homas] the archdeacon and other his relations to the canons of Bokeland, of the church of Bekynton and the chapel of Dirston in free and perpetual alms.

No. 3. Confirmacio Rain' dei gracia Bathon. Episcopi de locum de Bukland et al'.

Confirmation by Reginald, bishop of Bath [1174–92], of the grant of William de Erley to the brethren of the house of the Hospital of St. John of Jerusalem in England for placing and supporting there sisters of their order, of his place (locus) of Bokeland with the church of Porreton, the patronage whereof he at one time had, and with the church of Bekynton and with the church of Kynemersdon and the chapel of Dirston which were on his ground (in fundo suo) and with one virgate of land in Sumerton with the meadow of his demesne of Hibroc: all which for the health of his soul he conferred, with his place of Bokeland, for the planting of the canonical religion there by the hand of Thomas the archdeacon, his uncle. But since the brethren of the Hospital of Jerusalem protract the same business and, with regard to the removal of certain canons who lie hid [latitabant] there without the rule of a pastor, await royal favour, the same William de Erley, having ever the same disposition towards the brethren of the said Hospital granted as underwritten, i.e., that he should offer intercessory letters to Sir Randolph de Glamvyll (sic) with regard to the said business for the institution of the brethren there after the removal of the canons and pending the consummation of the matter they should have no muniment or charters from him lest it should later redound to the prejudice of the said brethren who held that place with the royal assent and that of the Archbishop of Canterbury, and of the present bishop, and of William de Erley.

No. 4. Carta Rain' Epus (sic) Bathon pro collocandis sororibus hospitalis apud Bukland.

Charter of Reginald, bishop of Bath, viz., ratification of the fact that G. de Neapolis, prior of the hospital of Jerusalem in England, has made suitable satisfaction to the canons of Bokeland, whom the King permits to be removed, for the planting there of sisters of the hospital. To wit, that he has taken three of them, Brian, and Walter and Alured, and a fourth lay brother (conversum) Wynnegod, into the house of the hospital, and assigned to them the habit of that house, and has caused two of them, to wit, Albinus and Richard, to be received into the monastery of the canons of Tanton, and one Walter into the monastery of Berlich, and one named Walter into the monastery of St. Bartholomew of Smethefeld, at London.

No. 5. De canonicis de Bukland amoveri ad diversos locos.

Brother Walter, formerly prior ot the canons of Bokeland, notifies that Brother Garnerius de Neapolis, then prior of the brethren of the Hospital of Jerusalem in England, has suitably satisfied the canons of Bokeland, whom the king caused to be removed in order to place there sisters of the aforesaid Hospital. And so he took brothers Alured, Brian, Walter de Stoch', and Wynnegod into the house of the said Hospital and bestowed the rest, viz., Albinus and Richard de Tanton on the monastery of Tanton, and Walter de Porreton on the monastery of St. Bartholomew at London, and Walter de Neuton on the monastery of Berlich.

No. 6. De professione Canonicorum de Bukland in Tanton.

Notification by Reginald, bishop of Bath, that Richard Albinus, and Gauterus, canons of Bokeland, have been received as brothers and canons by the prior and convent of Tanton, and have made profession to the prior, as appears by the charter of the said prior and convent in these words—To all the faithful of Christ, etc., Stephen humble minister of the church of Tanton, and the convent of the same place, etc. Know all of you that we with the desire of divine piety, and with brotherly affection of compassion, have joined with us in our common life three brothers, formerly canons of Bokelandia, to wit, Richard, Albinus, and Gauterus, and these three brothers have made regular profession to me, Stephen, prior of this Church, according to the custom of our order. Therefore we pray that, by your fraternity, divine mercy may be implored, that that which they promised in their profession they may actually perform.

No. 7. Confirmatio Regis Henrici II ad collocandas sorores de Bukland.

Confirmation by Henry, King of England, Duke of Normandy and Aquitaine and Count of Anjou, for the health of his soul and the souls of his father and mother, and his ancestors and successors and all the faithful departed, to God, St. Mary, St. John the Baptist, and the blessed poor of the holy house of the Hospital of Jerusalem and the brethren in the same house serving God, in free and perpetual alms for the placing and support of the sisters of their order, of the place of Bochland in which the chapel of the Blessed Mary and St. Nicholas is situated, and so the prior of the Hospital has agreed that he will retain the sisters of the order in no house except in the house of Bochland. The house of the Hospital of Jerusalem and the brethren there shall hold the same in free and perpetual alms for the placing and support of the said sisters, well and in peace, etc., in churches, chapels, in lands, in wood, in plain, in meadows, in pastures, in common (communitate) of grove, in moors and marshes, in fishponds and pools and fisheries, in waters and mills, in ways and paths, and in all other places and other things with all their liberties and free customs.

Bull of Pope Gregory directed to the dean, chancellor and treasurer of Salisbury, commanding them to decide with regard to the church of Pertuna, granted by the master and brethren of the Hospital of Jerusalem for the support of the sisters of the said Hospital of Bokeland, the sisters having complained that the vicar of the said church takes so much from the issues thereof that the residue is insufficient for their support. And therefore by our Apostolic writings we commit to your discretion that (those having been called who were to be called forth) and matters set forth on both sides having been heard, appeal being laid aside, so far as it shall be canonical, ye ordaining may cause that what ye shall have ordained be firmly observed by ecclesiastical censure. As for the witnesses who shall have been named, if they have absented themselves through favour, hatred or fear ye shall compel them by similar censure without appeal, to bear witness to the truth. But if not all of you shall be able to take part in executing these things, let two of you nevertheless execute them.

No. 16. De inquisicione vicarie de North Pederton anno domini mcc nonagesimo quinto.

The official of the archdeacon of Taunton to W bishop of Bath and Wells. Has received his mandate informing him that brother Peter de Hacham, Prior of the Hospital of St. John of Jerusalem in England, has presented Sir Robert Derneford, priest, to the vicarage of Northpederton, and commands him to cause diligent inquisition to be made whether the vicarage aforesaid is vacant, from what time, what it is worth, in what portions it consists, who is the true patron, if it is without litigation, if it is liable to a pensioner, touching the life, morals and orders of the presentee, and concerning all other circumstances as well touching the said vicarage as the person of the presentee, and to send the inquisition to him. Dated at Dogmersfeld v Kal. Oct. A.D. 1295.

Inquisition taken at Enemere on the morrow of St. Luke the Evangelist in the year abovesaid by the rectors of Cherdelinche, Stokelond, Cholton (sic) Spaxton, Aysholt, Gotehirst, Strengeston, Thurlokeston, Fytyngton, Holeford, and the vicars of Canyngton, Stokeurcy, Kilveton, and Lenge. Who say that the said vicarage is vacant by the death of Sir John, late vicar of the same, from the Day of the Exaltation of the Holy Cross, and is worth 5 marks according to the Norwich taxation. Its portions consist in small tithes. The true patron is brother Peter de Hacham, prior of the Hospital of St. John of Jerusalem in England, in right of the office of prior (prioratu). It is not in litigation. It is liable to a pension of 4 marks to the prioress and sisters of Bokeland. The presentee thereto is free and legitimate, of good conversation, a priest, and beneficed elsewhere.

No. 17.

Inquisition taken on Friday next after the feast of St. Matthew in mid-Lent in the presence of the commander (comaundour) of Bokeland and the seneschall of the sisters, and Sir Roger the chaplain, by oath of Jurdan Touker, Walter Bonvallette, Nicholas Helyer, Robert le Fener, Walter Hamound, William Randulf, William Pylet, Henry Randolf, Nicholas Crabbe, Peres Hake, Henry Suggel, and Henry Page. Who say that the sisters of Bokeland were in seisin of the tithes of three mills for many years, and the men (gentiz hommez) of the parish, who had erected new mills, did not wish to give any tithes until they should have raised as much over their costs. And Sir John le Viker, who is dead, came to the sisters, and they consulted together, insomuch that the sisters granted to the said vicar the tithes of three mills as he could plead (purroit pleyder) for the tithes of the other mills to their use. And when he should have gained it he shall hold the tithe of the three mills together with the others until he has gained his costs (iesque ataunt qil heit suis ses costages). And they say that there are in the parish of Northpederton 14 mills.

No. 18. Carta ffratris Terricus de Nussa prior hospitalis Sancti Johannis sororibus de Bukland de xxxviij marc' xij*s.* viii*d.* annuatim imperpetuum.

Grant by brother Terricus de Nussa, prior of the Hospital of St. John of Jerusalem in England, to the sisters of Bocland of 38 marks, 12*s.* 8*d.*, to be taken yearly for ever, namely, at Easter, 19 marks, 6*s.* 4*d.*, at Michaelmas, 19 marks 6*s.* 4*d.*, from the Preceptor of Bocland, who for the time shall be, for the support of the sisters, for certain tenements, lands and rents in divers places appertaining to the said sisters which shall remain to the said prior and his successors for ever.

No. 19. Carta ffratris Rogeri Veer prior hospitalis de senescallo sororum sedentem ad mensam preceptoris ibidem.

Ordinance by Roger de Veer, prior of the Hospital of St. John of Jerusalem in England, reciting his going to see the state of their house at Bokeland and finding differences between the preceptor and the prioress and convent of that house for divers things touching the said prioress and sisters, with the consent of our whole chapter of Melcheburn [Beds] and for keeping perpetual peace between them: that the prioress and convent shall have a brother as steward at the table of the preceptor, and one groom (garcionem) sitting with the grooms of the preceptor, and he shall be there daily at the table nisi duxerit harnesium dicti Senescalli; and at the feast of St. Michael when the steward shall wish to hold a court "de le Hele" he shall have five white loaves and his drinking-cups (costrellos) full of ale; and likewise (totidem) at the same feast for holding the courts of Kynmeresdon and Prymmeslegh and at Hokkaday, in like manner, he shall have a riding horse (equitaturam) and all other necessaries of the livery and ordination of the prioress and convent. And if in aught he shall err it shall be lawful for the prioress to stop him from intermeddling with their goods but not remove him without the prior. Item, one secular priest to celebrate for the soul of sister Fina and for the souls of the founders and benefactors of the said house, who [the priest] shall be at the table with the brethren; and a bed to be made on a couch betwixt the priests and clerks (et lectum in thalamo inter sacerdotes et clericos) for the rest of the time according to the disposition of the prioress. So that the preceptor shall have an allowance of 5 marks per annum for the table of the said priest, and of one brother celebrating the mass of St. Mary, and also 3*s*. at the feast of St. Michael for the clerk of the chapel. Item, they [the sisters] shall take the tithe of the meadow of Coglede, and of "la Newmede" for the support of the horses of the prioress deputed for the riding horse of the steward. Item, they shall have in Oxenemore, 36 oxen, for three weeks for drawing the manure of their court about the feast of Holy Trinity. Item, they shall have in Kovmore one bull and twelve cows from le hokkeday until the feast of All Saints. Item, the said prioress and convent shall have free ingress into Lytilwynshill when necessary to repair the house or the spring and conduit from the spring to Bokeland without disturbance of anyone.

No. 20.

Provisions made by brother Roger de Veer, prior of the holy house of the Hospital, viz.: that the steward of the ladies of Bokeland shall render to the prioress or to any lady she shall assign, their monies in portions (par parcelles); that is to say, the rents by themselves, the aids by themselves, and the amercements by themselves, just as he receives them and that this shall be by writing or by tally. Also each kind of grain shall be delivered to the granary (garnerium) and from the granary by writing and by tally; and that this shall be viewed by the cellarer and by the cosyner or other two ladies whom the prioress shall appoint; but there shall be two to receive whatever enters the granary and to make delivery of whatever shall issue there, and the outgoing and the delivery shall be made by writing and by tally, and by sale and purchase, and that men shall know how much they put into the oven (fourner), and how much for brewing (en bracier), and how much in provender, and how much in liveries (liveresons), and how much in seed (sameil) and how much in gruel (gruell); and the prioress shall have tally of their costs; so that men may know the increase and the sale and purchase and the increase; therefore the steward shall render his accounts to the prioress once a year, and the provosts and serjeants likewise to him or to whom she shall wish. No serjeant shall be received or removed against the wish of the prioress and the steward. And if any of their serjeants be attainted of larceny he cannot be reconciled, without the prior, either in the case of trespass against man or woman; and neither the stewards nor the bailiffs shall sell flax or wool (lyn ne layn) without the prioress.

No. 21. De parcellis in fundacione domus de Bukland tempore ffratris Johannis Radyngton prioris hospitalis S. Joh. Jerusalem.

Confirmation by brother Peter de Culanto, marshal of the Hospital of St. John of Jerusalem, and locum tenens of the master of the sacred house aforesaid, to the prioress and sisters of Bokeland on their supplication through brother John Radyngton, prior of the Hospital, reciting that on account of default of payment of certain parcels (parcellarum) granted to them at the foundation of the house of Bokeland they have fallen into great necessity; namely, the parcels of Chiltecomb and Tolre whereof they have an estate by grant of the chapter rendering therefor to their convent the due payment, also three marks granted to them for increase of their maintenance in the manor of Hidown pertaining to the preceptory (baiulia) of Templecombe, which manor was recovered from the hands of secular persons. Item, 100*s.* granted to them in the manor of Reynham by charter or instrument of William Bracere, knight, feoffee of the said manor. Item, 22*l.* due by the preceptor of Bokeland for certain lands which the preceptor who for the time being is has of the sisters there by a composition between him and the hospital made in a provincial chapter of the priory. Item, 3 marks from the preceptory of Swynnefeld [Kent] for certain lands. Item, 1 mark from the preceptory of Kerbrok [Norfolk]. Item, from the preceptory of Grenham [Berks] 4 marks for certain lands in Clifton which the preceptor holds of the sisters. All which parcels he grants anew being due to them according to their continual supplication. Mandate to the prior to induct them into possession of the same parcels and to expel rebels. And the brethren of the house shall in nowise gainsay this grant, or sell, pledge, alienate, grant, or transfer in perpetuity any of the premises out of this religious order (extra nostram religionem) without his [the master's] special licence and command. If they do anything against this inhibition these things shall be annulled.

Dated in the said convent of Rodes on the last day of the month of September, A.D. 1387.

Ratification by brother Philibert de Naylhaco, master of the house of the Hospital of St. John of Jerusalem and the convent of Rodes, of the underwritten order of Brother Peter de Culanto.

Brother Peter de Culanto, marshal of the house of the Hospital of St. John of Jerusalem, and locum tenens of the master and the convent of that house to the Prior and Turcopolier, preceptors, etc., of the priory of St. John of Jerusalem, etc., greeting; since in all the rules of the churches ripeness of age and gravity of morals should be encouraged, and especially there is the greater need of this when danger threatens, and therefore he considers that such an overseer should be placed over the house of the religious sisters who by reason of his age should not be drawn to vice, but whose chastity should be efficacious as an example to the unchaste, and to him as a target for the arrow should others look. Also whereas by their ancient custom and institution—although there may have been a more ancient [custom] in the order and especially in their convent of Rodes, the young ought to yield to the elder in the office of preceptorship and other offices of our house—nevertheless he, desiring to fulfill their pious and laudable proposal which they have conceived in the Lord, lest in future any young preceptor of the prioress and sisters of Bokeland and of the priory of Rodemescombe, having cast aside the example of dignity should do what is not meet so that great scandal might arise, and dishonour to the same preceptory and house, and which even fell into shame and disgrace of our whole religion, although he did not know it: therefore, their just requests having been shown to him, etc., he commits to them, the prior and Turcopolier (Tricoplerius) and the other preceptors and chiefs of the said priory of Jerusalem in England, the collation and provision of the said preceptory of Bocland and Rodemescombe, commanding them to elect a brother of good name and standing for the future remembrance thereof, and that he being elected, be inducted by them into corporal possession of the house or preceptory and its rights and members; but the confirmation of this collation, provision, assignation, and disposition is for ever reserved to him and his successors. Commands all the brethren that they do nothing contrary to this ordinance and grant.

Dated at Rodes on the third day of September, A.D. 1391.

Which order he commands to be observed.

Dated at Rodes on the seventeenth day of October, A.D. 1398.

No. 23. Carta Henrici Erlegh de pastura in mora de pertona Kyngismore et Northmore.

Grant and confirmation by Henry de Erlegh to Walter le Blunt, brother of Richard le Blunt of Perton, for his service, the whole land and tenement which Walter de Burewere once held of him in the moor of Perton, with pasture for all his men (mobiles) who hold the said land and tenement of the said Walter, everywhere in Kyngesmore and Northmore, and housbote, haybote and werbote in the said moor. No. 33. Finalis concordia anno regni Regis H. fil. Regis Johannis xx^mo^ inter fratrem Terricum de Nussa et Henricum de Erlegh de cursu aque molend' in Pereton.

Final concord made on the eve of St. Martin at Gyvelcestre, in the 20th year of the reign of King Henry, son of King John, between brother Terricus de Nussa, then prior of the Hospital of Jerusalem in England, plaintiff, and Henry de Erlegh, deforciant, before Robert de Lexington and Robert de Bellocampo and Henry de Lortedy and Jordan Olyver, justices in eyre and other faithful men of the Lord the King, concerning the water-course of the mill of the said prior in the vill of Perton, which pertains to the church of Perton and common in the moor of Perton. The said Henry de Erlegh rendered and quitclaimed for ever, for himself and his heirs, to the said prior and his successors, the free water-course to his mill of Perton, to have quit for ever without disturbance of him or his heirs. Rendering yearly to the said Henry and his heirs 12*d.* at the feast of St. Michael for all service and exaction. The said Henry de Erleghe also granted to the said prior and his successors to the proper uses of the brethren of Bukland common of Bukland in the moor of Perton for 20 beasts and 80 pigs and their young (eorum porcellos) until they are separated from their mothers. The brethren of Bokland shall have this common besides the common which the sisters of Bukland and the men of the church of Perton are held (tenentur) to have and shall have for ever in the said moor and it shall be lawful for the said brethren to make a stable (porcher) for the pigs in the said moor. Besides these things he quitclaimed to the said Henry de Erlegh for ever all right which he or his heirs have "in sequela in trincec' hundred' de Perton," of the men of the said prior at Perton. On condition that they be quit for ever of suit and claim of suit of the said Hundred, and of all things which can fall to the said Henry and his heirs by any chance by reason of the said suit. For which the prior gave to the said Henry de Erlegh 9 marks of silver. Also each party remitted to the other all damages which they have sustained and expenses made by reason of the said pleas and all causes and pleas, cavillings and controversies that have arisen before the day of this concord.

Hiis testibus:—Johanne de Reiny, Ricardo de Wrotham, Galfrido de Langeley, Galfrido de la Rode, et aliis.

No. 42. Carta Henrici IV de confirmacione iij carectarum busce in parco de perton.

Charter of Henry the fourth. Whereas the prioress and sisters of Bucland have shown to the King that the Keeper of the park at Pederton does not permit them to take brushwood from that park according to the grant of King Henry, the king's progenitor, because they are obedienciaries to the prior of the Hospital of St. John of Jerusalem in England and are therefore not capable persons according to the keeper's estimation (ac quod ipse persone capaces prout predictus custos super ipsas imponit, non existunt); he, therefore, of his special grace and to the effect that the said prioress and sisters shall more devoutly pray for his healthful estate and of his consort Joan whilst they shall live and for their souls when they shall pass away from light and also for the soul of his dearest consort Mary, deceased, and that all ambiguity and doubt of such words, de spinis alno and arabili shall be removed, grants to Walter Grendon, prior of the Hospital of St. John of Jerusalem in England, and to his successors, for ever, that he and his successors, by themselves and their servants of the Hospital of Bucland have and take every week three cart-loads of brushwood within his wood aforesaid or park of Pederton, namely, "thorn," "aller," "mapel" and "hasell," to the use and profit of the prioress and sisters and their successors for ever, and that each cartload of underwood be of the draft of six horses; and that the said prior and his successors or their servants have and take the said three cartloads of underwood for ever, and that they may fell, cut and carry at their will the underwood for the fuel of the said prioress and sisters from the feast of the annunciation of the Blessed Mary till All Saints to the number of cartloads which to them or their successors for the whole year shall pertain, without let or hindrance of the keeper of the park or any other officer.

Witnessed at Westminster 14th November, in the tenth year of his reign (1408). [Patent Roll, Hen. IV. 1408–13, p. 32.]

No. 45. De uno mesuagio et xxiiij acr' terre et prati cum pertinenciis in Coglode juxta Bukland.

Memorandum in Norman French that John de Chilbalton, otherwise called John le Porter, was seised in his demesne as of fee of one messuage and 24 acres of land and meadow in Coglode by Bokelond of St. John of Jerusalem in the county of Somerset, and that he gave the said lands and tenements to Peter Blake and Roise, his wife, daughter of the said John, and their issue in default to revert to the said John de Chilbalton and his heirs ; and that Peter and Roise were seised by virtue of that gift and died without issue, and that the lands and tenements then reverted to one Eva who was daughter and heir of Robert de Chilbalton, own brother (frier de plein sank) to John de Chilbalton, the donor, and that, nevertheless, the commander of Bokelond, who then was, seised into his hands the said lands and tenements as chief lord of the fee, by neglect of suit and claim and by the poverty of the said Eva. Which Eva had issue Richard Corndon, and died, the said Richard being under age, and that the said Richard when he was of full age claimed the lands and tenements and entered upon them and was seised, and that the then commander of Bokelond and one Thomas Spenser, his tenant, disseised him thereof. Richard Corndon had issue Nicholas Corndon now living, and died, Nicholas being under age, and that Nicholas, in his full age, claimed the said lands and tenements and entered into them and was seised until he was disseised by the said commander of Bokelond and his ministers who now are.

No. 46.

Indenture in Norman French between Richard Dacton, knight, John Bays and Henry Redemore, and Hugh Cancy and William Blake. Whereas Hugh Cancy and William Blake were bound to them in 40*l.*, as appears by an obligation made to them to pay at the feast of St. Michael next after the making of this indenture—the said Richard, John and Henry grant that if the said William will cause the right heir of John de Chilbalton, formerly Porter, of Bokeland, to come to Sustrenbokelond before the commander of Sustrenbokelond, or will agree for the costs of a gentleman of the council of the said commander at Tacheham, Berks, to bring the said heir, and the said William will conduct the said heir before the messenger there to remain until he can be proved by true evidence to be the true heir, and if he is proved true heir between this and St. Michael next after the making of this indenture, and the said William will satisfy the said commander for the true value of the lands and tenements which belonged to Peter Blake in Coggelode and in Bokelond from the thirty-fifth year of the reign of the present king until the coming of age of the heir of John Chilbalton, before the feast of All Saints next after the date of this indenture, that then the obligation of 40*l.* to them made by the said Hugh and William shall be null and lose its force. And if the said William shall fail in any of these points and articles herein stated, that then this obligation shall stand in force.

Instrument of Nicholas, bishop of Bath and Wells, setting forth that whereas he has caused to be dedicated a certain yard or churchyard surrounding the chapel of the vill or hamlet of Asshewyke, within the limits of the parish church of the parish of Kynersdon and dependent on this same parish church, by Richard, bishop Katensis his suffragan, 5 September, A.D. 1413, for the burial of the dead and all privileges concerning a sacred place; which dedication was made on account of the very great distance between the vill of Asshewyke from the same parish church, it being distant three English miles and more, and the difficulties of the ways, deep with water at many times of the year and covered with snow, and for the urgent necessity and utility of that parish aforesaid and also of the inhabitants of the vill of Asshewyke, and by the consent and entreaty of the patrons or founders and also of the rectors or holders of the said parish church of Kenersdon and of all others interested in the matter: he now decrees that the vicar for the time being in the said chapel of Asshewyke, as was accustomed from older time and is now used shall provide at his own cost one fit chaplain ministering in the chapel of Asshewyk, celebrating sacraments and all sacramentals and burial for the inhabitants of the same vill of Asshewyke, and dwelling continually in the same vill, or else the vicar for the time being shall minister in his proper person as is said. Also the right of taking and having all tithes great, small and mixed and spiritual obventions, oblations and issues from the inhabitants of the said vill of Asshewyk or coming in any manner to the said chapel and the right of ministering the sacraments, sacramentals and other spiritual things, whatsoever and of celebrating divine services in the said chapel of Asshewyke and in burying in the churchyard of the same and especially for all the inhabitants of the said vill of Asshewyke and others in cases by law permitted which pertained, pertain and in future should pertain to the rectors and vicars of the parish church aforesaid of Kenersdon for the time being, saving however episcopal rights and the dignity of the Cathedral churches of Bath and Wells. Moreover in compensation for burial in the said churchyard and chapel which were wont to be done in the said parish church, all the inhabitants of the said vill of Asshewyke, as well men as women, in sign of their subjection and obedience to be made by them to the said parish church shall in their own persons or by two proctors in their name every year, on the feast of the apostles Peter and Paul in times to come for ever, repair to the parish church of Kynersdon, being the mother church of the said chapel and of the inhabitants of the vill of Asshewyke, in the manner of parishioners and as true parishioners of the said church and at the solemnization of Mass, after the gospel of the said high mass of that day, in the time of the offering, shall offer threepence as a spiritual offering to him who celebrates the Mass or in his default, at the high altar, and there shall leave it, as the custom is; and if they do not make the offering or after having been required by the vicar so to do, shall not have offered it on the day of the Assumption of St. Mary next following, then he decrees and orders by these letters, that through the fault of the inhabitants of the said vill of Asshewyke he indicts the said chapel and churchyard from the celebration of the sacraments, sacramentals and burial thenceforth.

Dated in his manor of Banewell 5th September, A.D. 1413 and in the sixth year of his translation.

Robertus Dei gracia Bathon Episcopus Alured de Piro salutem ad memoriam revocamus quod precibus clericorum de Peretona provocati cimiterium apud Chedesiham in minente bellorum tempore ad unum vestrorumque ibidem comorancium refugium constituimus illud q3 tamdiu permanere quamdiu absque gravamine et dispendo prefate matris ecclesie de Peretona dinosceretur constistere et sub prefato tenore per dei graciam benediximus. Nunc vere audivimus quod quandam terre porciunculam curcellam videlicet tres acras terre que a serventibus tuis in benediccionem cimiterii sub tuo nomine ipsius loci capelle in presencia nostra collata sunt tu ei irreverenter obstuleris et ea reddere contradicis proinde mandamus tibi quatinus eandem terram cum fructubus quos exinde presumptuose iam percepisti memorato loco integre restituas et quiete decetero possidere permittas alioquin constituimus ut prefatus locus de Cheddeseia prefato cimiterio decetero careat. Noluimus enim nec de iure possumus ut ad ecclesie de Pereton lesionem retorqueatur quod bona fide et bona intentione et ad vestri pocius vestrorum, que commodum sub presencia nostra peticione illius factum esse dinoscitur precipimus eciam ut corpus illud quod ibidem minus prudenter inhumatum detinetur ad matricem ecclesiam de Pereton absque mora deportetur. Valete.

Robert by the grace of God bishop of Bath and Wells, to Alvred de Piro, greeting: we recall to memory that at the prayers of the clerks of Pereton we constituted the churchyard at Chedesiham [Chedzoy] when war was imminent as a refuge for your men there dwelling, and that to remain so long as it caused no injury or expense to the said Mother Church of Pereton, and in this wise and by the grace of God, we blessed it. But now, indeed, we have heard that you have irreverently stolen a certain small portion of land, namely, a small court, and three acres of land which were conferred by your servants under your name for the benediction of the churchyard of the chapel of the said place in our presence and you refuse to restore it, therefore we command you to restore the same land with the fruits which you have now presumptuously taken from the said place, and from henceforth permit whomsoever we appoint to possess it, so that the place of Cheddeseia from henceforth be without the said churchyard. For neither do we will can nor we of right that, that which was deemed worthy to be done under our presence at their petition in good faith and with good intent, and for the convenience of you and yours, be turned to the injury of the church of Pereton.

Also we command that the body which is imprudently detained there unburied be carried without delay to the mother church of Pereton.

Also the same Prior held in demesne the same day one messuage and 2 carucates of land in Hale, in the county aforesaid, belonging to the said Hospital. Also he held in demesne, on the same day, Templestret in Bristoll in the county aforesaid, which street (vicus) belonged to the master and brethren the Knights Templars; also he held in demesne on the same day one messuage and one carucate of land in Lopene in the county aforesaid; which messuage and land belonged to the master and brethren the Knights Templars. Also they say that the aforesaid prior had no other manors, lands or tenements on the same day in the county aforesaid, nor has he now.

Dated at Somerton on Wednesday before the feast of the nativity of St. John the Baptist, 8 Edward III.

No. 193.

Enrolment in the term of St. Michael in the second year of King Edward I. (the third commencing), under Lincoln :—Thomas de Multon was summoned to answer to the prior of the Hospital of St. John of Jerusalem in England, that he permit him to present a fit parson to three parts of the church of Kyrketon, which is vacant and belongs to his [the prior's] donation. And wherefore the prior by his attorney complains that, whereas Lambert de Multon, ancestor of the said Thomas, whose heir he is, in the court of King H., father of the present king, in the twenty-eighth year of his reign, acknowledged the said advowson to be the right of one Terricus de Nussa, then prior of the said Hospital, and of his church of St. John of the same Hospital ; to have and to hold to the same prior and his successors in free, pure and perpetual alms, by a fine made between them ; and the same Terricus, by acknowledgment, presented one Martin de Lytlebury, his clerk, to the said church, who at his presentation was admitted and instituted thereto ; and parson last in the same vill, and for that reason it appertains to him to present to the same church—the said Thomas has unjustly hindered him from presenting to the same. Wherefore he says that he deteriorated and has damages to the value of forty pounds. And therefore he produces suit and he proffers a certain fine made in the court of the King here in the twenty-eighth year of his reign before John de Nevile and John de Cobeham, in which is contained that the said Lambert acknowledged the aforesaid advowson to be the right of the said prior and his successors and of his church ; to have and to hold in free, pure and perpetual alms. And Thomas appears by his attorney and defends force and injury when, etc. And he well acknowledges that the said Lambert, his ancestor, granted the advowson of the said church to the said prior and his successors as is aforesaid, and that he last presented the said Martin, his clerk, to the same church, who was admitted and instituted at his presentation and last died, parson of the same ; by whose death that church is now vacant.

Therefore it is adjudged that the prior should recover his presentation to the said three parts of the church. And he has a writ to the bishop of Lincoln that notwithstanding the reclamation of the said Thomas, etc., and the said Thomas is in mercy.

Letters of Thomas de Moleton. Whereas in the court of King Edward the second, at the end of the second year of his reign namely on the morrow of All Saints, contention was moved between the prior of the house of the Hospital of St. John of Jerusalem in England, of the one part, and himself of the other part, concerning the advowson of the church of Kyrketon in Hoyland, in the diocese of Lincoln, before the justices of the king's bench at Westminster; and it was found both by the rolls of the justices and by fine before them made, that Lambert de Moleton, his father, granted and confirmed by his charter the advowson of that church to the prior and brethren of that Hospital and their successors in pure and perpetual alms, in order that the same prior and the brethren might present whom they would to the same when it should happen to be vacant in all times to come; he, approving, before the said justices, the grant and confirmation and the fine made, acknowledges for himself and his heirs, that the right of patronage of church aforesaid belongs to the prior and brethren of that house for ever. Moreover, he quitclaims the right of patronage to the prior and brethren for himself and his heirs. Also he confesses, that Sir Anthony Bek, whom at the time of that contention he presented to the same, was not admitted at his presentation, but at the prior's, as if presented by the true patron and instituted by letters of his presentation.

No. 197.

Notification by Anthony Bek, that whereas he was presented to the church of Kyrketon, in the diocese of Lincoln, by the noble man, Sir Thomas de Moleton, asserting himself to be patron of the said church, but was not admitted, because the prior and brethren of the Hospital of Jerusalem in England contended that they were the true patrons of the aforesaid church, and the said religious men in the Court of the King afterwards obtained the patronage against that nobleman—he has renounced his presentation made by the said Sir Thomas, as having been made by force, and not in right of patronage. And whereas he was canonically presented by the said religious men to the diocesan of the place to the same church, still being vacant, at their presentation as by the true patron, he acknowledges that he has been admitted by the diocesan of the place, and has acquired possession thereof. And, lest any scruple should again arise, he has thought fit to set his seal to these present letters, and, for greater evidence has procured the seal of lord R., bishop of Bath and Wells, then lord chancellor of the king, to be set to these presents.

Notification of Henry, bishop of Lincoln, that in the register of the ordination of vicars in the time of the lord John, his predecessor, in the diocese of Lincoln, thus it appears: namely, the ordination, by John, bishop of Lincoln, of the vicar in the church of Kyrketon, in his diocese, which the prior and brethren of the Hospital of Jerusalem hold, as follows: that the vicar of that church shall have that place on the north side of the way opposite the house (mansi) of the late rector of Kyrketon, which used to pertain to the rector of that church, for his habitation or for his deputies, free from all exaction and secular service at the cost of the brethren, for the building and repairing of a house, namely, of a certain new hall, of one chamber with a gardrobe (cum garderoba) for the vicar [and] of another chamber with a gardrobe for the chaplains and deacons who shall serve in the church, and one stable for the butler, and one kitchen with a brewhouse decently built: moreover he shall have all oblations, as well great as small, in the said church and the chapel of St. Helen, and from the box at all the altars of the said church: also the entire tithe of hay, flax and hemp, both in field and vill, and of colts, calves, geese, doves, mills and mortuaries, and all other things pertaining to the said church, except only [the tithes] of wool and of lambs, called altarage, under whatsoever name they are accounted: also the vicar shall have yearly at the feast of St. Michael, beginning at the feast of Michaelmas next, from the said prior and brethren 4*l.* 7*s.* 7*d.* to be paid to him in the said church, under pain of paying 10*l.* to the fabric of the church of Lincoln as often as they fail in paying the said money. Moreover it is ordained that the same vicar shall pay (subeat et agnoscit) a yearly pension of 4 marks, in sign of subjection and to be given towards the bishop's temporalities, also to the cathedral church, imposed on the church of Kyrketon, in recompense by the consent of the prior and brethren, and to be paid to the vicars choral of Lincoln from the best (pinguiorem) offering made to his vicarage, on the feast of St. John the Baptist yearly. And the prior and brethren shall bear all the ordinary burdens of the church, as for instance the procuration of the archdeacon, reparation of the chancel, dedication and reconciliation (reconsiliacionem) of the church or churchyard and other ordinary things; but for the extraordinary things as for instance papal tithes, royal contributions, etc., and the like, the brethren shall be taxed up to 61 marks: and the vicar, for the same extraordinary charges for furnishing his vicarage (pro paratione vicarie sue), to 24 marks. And the prior and brethren shall provide and amend the books, vestments and ecclesiastical ornaments. But if there is any ambiguity in this ordination, the interpretation, declaration and supplement of the same is reserved to the bishop and his successors.

No. 203.

Notification by John, bishop of Lincoln, that in the register of the admission of clerks to ecclesiastical benefices in the diocese of Lincoln in the time of the lord Oliver, his predecessor, it is found as follows:—that the church of Donington in Hoyland being vacant by the death of Guy de Montiniaco, the last rector, and the brethren of the Knights Templars asserting that the said church had been appropriated to them on the cession or decease of the rector, saving a suitable portion from the issues of the said church to be assigned for the uses of the perpetual vicar to be instituted therein; therefore supplication was made that after diligent inquiry as to the profits of the church, a vicarage, according to its faculty, should be ordained, to which the master of the Knights Templars in England should present a parson. Thereupon diligent inquisition having been made by W. archdeacon of Lincoln, it was found that the tithe of sheaves of the said church are of the yearly value of 40 marks, tithe of hay 40*s.*, tithe of wool and lambs 5 marks; tithe of mills one mark, tithe of cheese and butter 18*s.*; tithe of cows, calves, colts (pucellorum), boats (naviculorum), carts (carectarum), bakers (pistorum), brewers (braciatricum), merchants (mercatorum), fishings, yearly captions with oblation of candles on the day of purification, 60*s.*; tithe of salt, 30*s.*; tithe of flax and hemp, 2 marks; accustomed oblations for the four solemn days of the year, 5 marks; small tithes made by devotion, 40*s.*; wax scot (ceragii) collected yearly, 30*s.*, from which has to be found tapers (cerei) for the chancel, with Easter taper and another light necessary in the same, together with a lamp before the high altar, and thus 24*l.* worth of wax can be found yearly; and St. Peter's pence yearly 10*s.* 9*d.*, from which 6*s.* 9*d.* are to be paid to the archdeacon. But of the mortuaries because they are casual the amount was not known and because the said church was wont to be served by one chaplain and one clerk, besides the holywater clerk (preter aque bajulum). With the consent of brother Robert de Turvyle, then master of the Knights' Templars in England, xiv kal. March, A.D. 1285, at London, which day and place the bishop ordained as follows:—brother John de Moune, preceptor of Brueria, prosecuting the said matter in the name of the said master, namely, that, except the tithes of sheaves, hay, wool, lambs and salt, which are to remain to the said brethren by this ordinance, all other issues, with all mortuaries, and the tithe of flax and hemp, sown either in tofts or in fields of the parish aforesaid of the said church, either after ploughing or digging (post carucam sive pedis fodicionem) and other obventions whatsoever the vicar shall take, and they are assigned for his perpetual portion. And the brethren of the Temple shall sustain, repair and roof the chancel, and shall satisfy all the extraordinary things that touch the said church, and shall assign to the vicar a suitable house (mansum) built at their costs, in a suitable place ; and shall also annually pay to the vicar, by the preceptor of Brueria, for the augmentation of his portion, 20*s*. at the feast of St. Michael. And the vicar shall find all the ordinary, due and accustomed charges as, for instance, procuration of the archdeacon, synodals, letare Jerusalem et si qua sint similia, with books and ornaments of the church. If anything obscure, dubious or ambiguous appears in this ordination, the interpretation and declaring of the same, as well as the augmentation of the vicar's portion, if it is insufficient, is expressly reserved to the bishop. Finally this ordination being approved and accepted by the master and the preceptor, the said master presents Ralph Ellerker, chaplain, to the said vicarage, thus ordained, under this form :—

To the reverend father in Christ, the lord Oliver, bishop of Lincoln, etc.: We, Robert de Turvyle, Master of the Knights Templars in England, present to the vicarage of the parish church of Dunington, being vacant and in your diocese, and belonging to our presentation, our beloved chaplain Sir Ralph called de Ellerker, praying you to admit the said R. to the said vicarage and canonically to institute him as vicar. Farewell.

Dated at Bistlosham, the house of the Temple, III nones January in the year of grace 1285. On which presentation, on account of other articles requiring it, inquisition having been made by W. archdeacon of Lincoln, concerning the person presented, it was sufficiently established—the said Ralph was admitted to the said vicarage III kal. April, in the sixth year, at Luttreworth, and instituted perpetual vicar with the charge of personally ministering and continually residing canonically therein ; and having sworn canonical obedience to the bishop in the usual form, and the oath of continual residence in the same, having been fulfilled—by the said Ralph, it was written to the archdeacon that he should cause the said Ralph to have corporeal possession of the said vicarage.

And in the letter directed to the archdeacon the force of the whole of the above said ordination was contained.

Notification by B., bishop of Exeter, that whereas there was litigation between the chapter of the church of Exeter and Walter, prior of the house of the Hospital of Jerusalem, with the brethren of the same house, with regard to the church of Colebroc, the chapter striving for the gift of the bishop, the chapter asserts that the church of Colebroc pertains and pertained to the bishop and his predecessors, by reason of his spiritual and secular right, and the prior and brethren striving for the advowson of Alexander de Colebroc, who said that the right of patronage in that church was his, and who had conferred what he had in the same, saving episcopal authority on the said house of the Hospital, before him, and with the consent of the bishop. Finally, the chapter and the prior with the brethren being willing for the perpetual form of peace, thus it was decreed, that the chapter of the church of Exeter shall have freely, entirely and for ever, the right of patronage or possession in the church of Colebroc, namely, the whole church with all its appurtenances. And the chapter shall pay yearly for ever, as alms in the Hospital of Jerusalem, 10*s.*, namely, 5*s.* at Michaelmas and 5*s.* at Easter. For the greater confirmation of which charity he takes them into perpetual participation together of the spiritual benefits, so that whenever the chief prior of the Hospital of the whole of England shall come to Exeter, he shall be present at the morning office, and shall have full communication of bread and wine, and a place in the choir and chapter as one of the canons.

Contract between the prior and the brethren of the Hospital of St. John in England, of the one part, and Thomas, the abbot, and the convent of Dunekewell, of the other part, in respect of land in Ruffegreihega, which the said abbot and convent laid claim to from the said prior and brethren, and in respect of 7*s.* yearly rent from the mill of Hambirry, which the prior and brethren laid claim to from the said abbot and convent. In the year 1307 (sic) in the reign of King Henry, son of King John [ ] on the feast of St. Michael, peace was made in this manner; namely, that the prior and brethren granted that the abbot and convent and their successors hold the said land of Ruffegreihega at fee farm for ever, of them and their successors. And the said abbot and convent shall render yearly to the said prior and brethren 20*s.* sterling, at Bothemescombe, for all service. And if at any of these terms they shall fail to pay this rent, the monks shall give to the prior and brethren for each term past 20*s.* Nevertheless they shall render the rent to the master of Bothemescombe, who for the time shall be. And the prior and brethren remitted and quitclaimed to the abbot and convent and their successors all claim which they had in the said 7*s.* yearly rent. Also the said prior and brethren and their successors are bound to warrant the land of Ruffgreihega to the said monks. And whenever the rent shall be in arrear it shall be lawful for the said prior and brethren to distrain the said abbot and convent by their chattels and cattle found on their tenement in Ruffegreihega until they are fully satisfied both for the rent and the 20*s.* abovesaid. And that they can do this without hindrance, the abbot and convent renounce all appeal, exception, royal prohibition and all things obtained and to be obtained and all right of remedy.

No. 251.

Extent of the land of Ruffegereihey on the day of the Nativity of St. John the Baptist, at Bothmescomb, by brother G. de Manby, then master of Mayne, and brother Richard de Morton, then master of Boklande, by order of Sir Elias de Smethton, then prior, A.D. 1253. There are there eighty acres of arable land and three acres of meadow, and of moor and waste 137 acres and the twentieth part of a rood. And the yearly value of that land, with meadow, moor and waste is 20*s.* Moreover Eleanor (Helianore) Rufferegerey holds of that fee forty-eight acres of arable land, and one acre of meadow, and forty acres and the tenth part of one rood of moor and waste by the free service of 4*d.* for all service.

No. 252.

Notification that whereas there was long controversy between the prior and brethren of St. John of Jerusalem in England, of the one part, and the abbot and monks of Dunekewell, of the other part, with regard to three ferlings of land in Cratecomb, and three parts of the wood of Tymbrehangre, formerly conferred upon the house of the Hospital by the grant and alms of Henry, son of William, before the abbot of Westminster and the prior of Holy Trinity, London, it was amicably agreed in this manner; namely, that the said prior and brethren, saving and retaining to their men of Bodmescombe dwelling at Heghes common of pasture in the wood of Tymbrehangre and in Cobewid as fully and freely as ever they used that common, have granted to the said monks the said three ferlings of land with three parts of the said wood. To hold and to have for ever. Rendering yearly 10*s.* to the procurator of the Hospital at Bodmescomb in the octaves of Easter. If the abbot and monks shall fail to pay this money, for every term past they shall pay to the house of the Hospital and to the brethren 20*s.* in the name of a pain, and nevertheless shall satisfy them for the rent retained. And faithfully to observe this they submit themselves to the jurisdiction of the abbot of Westminster and of his fellow judge (conjudicis), the prior of Holy Trinity and of their successors, renouncing in this matter all privileges, appeals and gainsayings, etc.

No. 253.

Agreement between the abbot and convent of Dunkeswell and the prior and brethren of St. John of Jerusalem at Bodmescombe in the thirtieth year of the reign of King Edward on the Sunday next after the feast of the Exaltation of the Holy Cross. Whereas controversy has arisen regarding a certain common of pasture upon the hill of Westcotedoune in Shildon, between the abbot and convent of Dunkeswell, of the one part, and the prior and brethren of St. John of Jerusalem of Bodmescombe, by the intervention of mutual friends, at Exeter, it was in this wise agreed; namely, that the abbot and convent granted the said common to the prior and brethren, saving to the abbot and monks six acres of arable land to be cultivated yearly. Nevertheless they shall enclose the said acres. And if the cattle of the brethren enter on the said corn for default of enclosure they shall not be impounded. And after the corn has been removed they may enter and have common (coicent) as elsewhere.

No. 254.

Saturday before the feast of St. Luke the Evangelist, Composition between the prior and the brethren of the Hospital of Jerusalem in England, of the one part, and the abbot and convent of Dunkeswell, in the house of the Hospital at Clerkenwell, with the assent of the parties, thus it was arranged: namely, that all the followers (satillites) of Dunkeswell who were present at the violence done to the men (qui interfuerunt violencie hominibus faciende) of the house of the Hospital of Bodmescombe, on the solemn day on the feast of All Saints, shall come to the doors of the house of the Hospital stripped (denudati) and barefoot (discalciati) that there, according to the form of the house of the Hospital they may be absolved; and they shall take corporal oath that never henceforth will they presume so to sin against the brethren of the house of the Hospital. Also it was provided that the abbot and convent shall satisfy R. and Walter son of Alward de Heghes, men of the said Hospital, for injuries inflicted upon them by the followers of the said monks, and they shall acquit R. and Walter and their pledges before the justices in eyre, with the advice of the brethren of the Hospital and save them indemnified, because the said R. and Walter "satillites dictorum monachorum de pace domini Regis appellaverunt."

No. 266.

Peter de Colmstoke bought from Nicholas Peitevin one acre of land above the garden of St. Mary Magdalen, outside the south gate of the city of Exeter, and one courtyard (curtillum) with 4 selions of land next the aforesaid [land]: afterwards, however, the said Peter de Colmstoke caused Nicholas Peitevin to enfeoff the Hospital of St. John the Baptist of Jerusalem by his charter, rendering nothing therefor. Afterwards the said Peter de Colmestoke took the said courtyard and the acre with the selions from the Hospital, rendering 2*s.* yearly therefor. Whereof the Hospital was in seisin for thirty years and more. Also, when Peter de Colmestoke and his wife were dead, Richard de la Werthe entered on the said tenement in right (ratione) of his wife, daughter of Peter de Colmestoke, without license, without cognisance of the Hospital or payment of the 2*s.* rent. And the whole tenement lies void and the courtyard and land uncultivated, because nothing can be found (quia nichil debet inveniri) to distrain. And to you we hand over the charter of our feoffors, but we know not whether Peter de Colmestoke had a charter of the Hospital for himself and his heirs or not.

No. 267.

Charter of John Wyg[er] desiring in no way to diminish the pious gifts of devoted Christians, but to increase them, by which he grants and confirms to the brethren of the Hospital of Jerusalem at Bothemescumbe, 4*s.* yearly rent from his land at Woderewe to be taken on the feast of St. Michael from the men holding that land; namely, 2*s.* in recompense of those 2*s.* which they were wont to receive from the land of the Hospital which were to him remitted by them; and 12*d.* which formerly they were wont to take from that land; and 12*d.* of his gift: to have and to hold to the same brethren and their successors in free, pure and perpetual alms, of him, his heirs and assigns for ever. And it shall be lawful for the brethren to distrain as often as the said rent shall cease by caption and detention of the things found upon the land aforesaid.

P. 32, line 36. Arabilis is a word formed from aralus—maple tree.

P. 33, line 19. East Lambrook, Radwell and Compton Durville are in or near S. Petherton. (S.R.S., vi, 266.)

P. 36, line 13. Joh. Fitz Neel: Inq. p.m. 5 Ed. III., vol. vii, p. 273. Robert le Fitz Neel held in Littlemor and Couele (Oxon) £15 rent for his life of the demise of brother Thomas Larcher, Master of the Hospital of St. John of Jerusalem in England.

P. 37, line 22. Liveriis appears as Luveriis in No. 50. Nich. de Luveriis occurs in Wells Cath. MSS., p. 9.

P. 40, line 8. DENA TERRÆ, a hollow place between two hills; and the word dena is used for a little portion of woody ground, commonly called a coppice. Et una parva dena sylvæ. Domesday. (Jacobs Law Dictionary.)

P. 42, line 12. David Bruning in No. 61.

P. 43, line 2. Apsa is Rapps in Ashill and near Broadway. Cad green is close by.

P. 46, line 26. Wendon here and in No. 69, etc., should be Bendon or Bindon in Milverton, a mistake which occurs very often in the MS. Bendon is given at the end of No. 72.

P. 48, line 30. In this charter Hugh de Bendon's name is given correctly for the first time.

P. 50, line 8. Bolbethorne is Lobbethorne in No. 77. There is a place called Thorne in North Barrow.

P. 50, line 20. At this point the "headings," cease in the MS.

P. 51, line 20. Lecton is Leighton in Cloford, Somerset.

P. 52, line 30. Cilterna is Chilthorne Domer.

P. 52, line 31. Geoffrey Chuvell. There is a place called Shovel House in N. Petherton.

P. 53, line 27. Hoka is probably Oakley in Chilthorne.

P. 53, line 30. Longo Campo, Nuncamp. Red Bk. Exch. (Index.)

P. 54, line 29. Richard de Lotamd fug' is a mistake for Richard de Rotundo Fugereto (see No. 15).

P. 55, line 1. This document is in Norman French.

P. 55, line 20. Lillet' is probably High Littleton.

P. 56, line 1. MS. has Deti; it may be a mistake for Deci=Decimus. Clud is Temple Cloud.

P. 58, line 28. Crosses placed on houses belonging to the Hospitallers, see also p. 60: and p. 147 for crosses as landmarks. (See Hampson's Medii Ævi Kal. I. 196.)

P. 63, line 20. Paumer = Palmer.

P. 65, line 28. Higher and Lower Hopcott are situated between Luccombe and Minehead, see Ordnance Map.

P. 66, line 15. Troham, Trougham, or Druffham is a hamlet in the parish of Bisley, co. Glos. Rudder's Glos. (1779), p. 292. Domesday Book says that Troham was held by Earl Hugh and that it contained one hide.

P. 68, line 13. Woodborough in Winscombe is close to Winterhead in Shipham.

P. 73, line 21. Abana is the Avon in Bristol, see No. 119.

P. 78, line 2. Shutterne in Taunton.

P. 79, line 7. One of the witnesses being Thomas de Ivithorn, which is in Street, points to Barton St. David being the place meant; if so, this charter gives what may be the true dedication of the church, i.e., to All Saints and not to St. David.

P. 80, line 3. Walestrena means Wanstrow, a parish in Somerset, see No. 130; a good instance of how difficult it often is to identify names of places.

P. 81, line 14. Dernlege is Derlegh hodie Durleigh; see No. 133.

P. 82, line 23. Matthew de Gacimore is called Matthew de Schillagate [Skilgate] in No. 136. MS. has Gacimore twice and Gatemore once (p. 49).

P. 82, line 26. Sindercombe is in Clatworthy. Cove is a membrum of Bodmiscombe; see Camden Soc., No. 65, p. 13.

P. 84, line 10. Bruneland means Brompton Regis, see Barlinch, S.A.S., vol. liv, pp. 92, 101.

P. 85, line 30. There is a place called Wadham, in the parish of Knowstone, Devon; it was the original seat of the ancient family of Wadham. Lysons' Devon, p. 306.

P. 86, line 11. This is a Dorset Charter: Bloxworth is in Dorset and there is Bovington in Combe Keines, where Thomas de Bovint evidently hailed from. Hutchins's Dorset, i, 360. Watercombe is in Warmwell, ibid., i, 433.

P. 87, line 2. This is Holditch in the parish of Thorncombe, Devon. All doubt is set at rest by mention of a meadow on the river Axe.

P. 87, line 11. Ertecumbe is evidently Yarcombe (Devon).

P. 89, line 11. Chederleigh is in the parish of Bickleigh, which is four miles from Tiverton on the road to Exeter. Lysons' Devon, p. 45. The donor, William Brewer or Briwere, of whom a good account is given in the Dictionary of National Biography, died in 1226: he married Beatrice de Valle. A relative of his, another William Briwere, held the see of Exeter from 1224 to 1245. This enables us to date this charter circa 1225. Among the witnesses, for Wm. de Treiminettis, or Tremmetes, see Red Bk. Exch. (Index).

P. 92, line 1. Hugh de Neville was appointed justice of the forest by letters patent 29th April, 1224, Select Pleas of the Forest (Selden Society), p. xcvii : see also C.R. Hen. III., 1227–31, p. 166.

P. 92, line 7. This charter relates to Langford Budville. Berduuilla is evidently a form of Budville.

P. 92, line 19. This may be Horton in Ilminster.

In the list of witnesses Menet and Neruet both stand for Meriet and Munelinch for Murelinch,

P. 93, line 9. "Heir Rogeri Poete"; is this Roger the Poet?

East Lynch, formerly in the parish of Timberscombe, was, in 1883, amalgamated with Selworthy (Kelly).

P. 95, line 2. There was property in Herefordshire belonging to Buckland, Dugdale, vi, p. 672.

P. 95, line 14. Ashwick is a parish in Somerset. The church was dependent on Kilmersdon. See No. 164. For Careville family see S.R.S., viii (Index).

P. 95, line 28. "Dominus Ricardus Dei gracia Katensis Episcopus nostrum in hac parte suffraganeus" is not identified by Bp. Stubbs, but it is possible that he may have been Bishop of Caithness, he was suffragan of Sarum in 1414, Bath, 1414–18, Exeter, 1420. There seems to be some little confusion about the Bishops of Caithness at this particular date. (See Keith's Catalogue of Scottish Bishops, p. 213.) Cathanensis is the Latin for Caithness; see Gams' Series Episcoporum, p. 237.

P. 98, line 27. Leigh Farm and Leighland Chapel are both near Treborough.

MS. reads Wethford but possibly Wecheford, i.e., Washford, is meant.

P. 100, line 12. Luveriis, see Wells Cath. MSS., p. 9.

P. 101, line 1. MS. has Lunefefth; it ought to be Lunesefth. Berewe must be Rowberrow which is close to Winterhead.

P. 101, line 17. This charter relates to Walton and Luckington which are in Kilmersdon. According to the Red Book of the Exchequer Capernun is one of the many forms of Champernown.

P. 104, line 7. Toller, a limb of the camera of Chilcombe, Dorset (Camden Soc., No. 65, p. 294), i.e., Toller Fratrum or Little Toller, one mile west of Maiden Newton. Hutchins's Dorset, ii, 696.

"In the records of the Knights Hospitallers at Malta are some entries relating to payments made by the Lady Prioress of Buckland for the preceptories of Chyrton [Cheriton, Som.], Donington, Lincs., Toller, and Chilcombe, Dors. In 1522, 1523, 1524, 1526 payments are entered, and in 1532 she owed the common treasury for arrears £64 6*s.*, and for rent of the above preceptories £45 9*s.* 6*d.*, and pays to the treasury by the hand of Cutler Overton, generosus, £44 13*s.* 4*d.* In 31 Hen. VIII., the manor and rectory of Toller and Winford Eagle, and the advowson of the vicarage, belonging to the priory of Buckland, co. Som., and lands, called Silke in Winterborne St. Martin, late belonging to the priory of Merton, co. Surrey, were granted to John Samways of Winterborne St. Martin, for £409 15*s.*, paying yearly for the former 44*s.*, for the latter 15*d.*" Hutchins, ii, 696.

P. 104, line 23. For the Piro family which gave its name to Stoke Pero, a small parish in West Somerset, see Chadwyck-Healey's West Somerset.

P. 106, line 10. "Radulfus filius Willelmi de Bruere dedit sororibus ecclesiam de Toland cum pertinenciis." Dugdale, vi, 838 ; but No. 183 calls him Ralph son of William de Bruneton, and this is probably correct ; if so, he is Ralph, son of William, who gave his name to Brompton Ralph. He is sometimes called Ralph, son of William of Withycombe. He was son of William, son of Durand de Mohun. See Lyte's History of Dunster, pp. 5, 556. Somerset Record Society, vol. viii, p. 289.

P. 106, line 29. "Abbate Haumestarie" may possibly relate to the Augustinian Abbey of Haughmond or Haghmon in Shropshire.

P. 108, line 9. This charter relates to Holcombe near Kilmersdon, No. 189. Edford is in Holcombe.

P. 110, line 15. Purchase and Staplehays were on the site of the priory, see Hugo, p. 129.

P. 110, line 28. Bajulia de Bothmescombe ; Hospitallers (Camden Soc.), No. 65, p. 13. Bodmescombe in Uffculme (Ordnance Map).

P. 111, line 3. N.E.D. gives fyrrys and furres as singular forms of "furze," and firsen, fursyn, fursen and furzen as plural forms ; here the word is formed of the dissyllabic singular ffirres and the plural yn.

P. 113, line 6. The regnal years of Edward II. end on 7th July, and All Saints is 1st November.

P. 115, line 13. Robert Burnell, Bishop of Bath and Wells 1275–93.

P. 119, line 31. Temple Bruern (Lincs.) commandry of, formerly Templars, now [1338] Hospitallers. Camden Soc., No. 65, p. 154.

P. 120, line 8. Lætare is Mid-Lent Sunday on which there was a payment of 2*s.* to the Bishop from every parish in the diocese, sometimes called Cathedraticum or Quadriticum.

P. 120, line 24. Bustelesham, or Bisham, Berks. The manor was given to the Templars by Rob. de Ferrariis temp. Stephen ; afterwards the manor came to Wm. Montacute, Earl of Salisbury, who A.D. 1338 built a priory there for Austin Canons. Camd. Soc., No. 65, p. 245. Dugdale, vi, 800.

P. 121, line 1. Brendon (N. Devon). The manor was conveyed temp. Hen. II. from Pomeroy to Beaples. Lysons' Devon, p. 67. It is curious to notice that Badgeworthy (so well known to the readers of Lorna Doone) should have been the home of hermits before it was the home of the fabulous Doones.

P. 121, line 14. Mich. de Siccavilla: see Wells Cath. MS. Secheville (Index), also Red Bk. Exch. (Index).

P. 121, line 18. St. Madern (Cornwall) is near Penzance, of which it is the mother church. The church of this parish was appropriated to the preceptory of Trebigh (Cornwall) the great tithes being given to the Knights Hospitallers by Henry de Pomeroy. Landithy in this parish also belonged to them. Lysons' Cornwall, p. 209–10. Camden Soc., No. 65, 15.

P. 121, line 25. The manor of Landkey (N. Devon) belonged to the family of Beauple or Beaple, who had their original seat there. After several generations, an heiress brought it to Sir Nigel Loring, K.G., in the reign of Ed. III. Lysons' Devon, p. 308.

P. 121, line 29. Adam is an addition to the List of Priors (Dugdale, v, 196).

P. 122, line 29. Kenterbiri (sic in MS.) should be Kentisbury, a parish in Devon, about two or three miles from Combe Martin. Lysons says that it belonged to the family of Lupus. Devon, p. 298.

P. 123, line 1. Pilland is in Pilton (Devon), and Loxhore is a parish in Devon.

P. 123, line 14. Bagworthy of Bagworthy, this ancient family removed from Devon temp. Hen. IV. Lysons' Devon, p. clxi.

P. 124, line 17. The Cistercian Abbey of Newenham in Axminster was founded, temp. Hen. III., by Reginald de Mohun and his brother William.

P. 126, line 10. The manor of Pinhoe (Devon) belonged, temp. Hen. III., to Robert de Vallibus or de Vaux. Lysons' Devon, p. 390. Red Bk. Exch. (Index.)

P. 127, line 11. Furzehill is in Brendon, Devon (Ordnance Map). (See Nos. 209–10.)

P. 128, line 2. Rous of Modbury removed into Cornwall.

Tracey of Wollacomb Tracey in Morthoe extinct temp. Ed. II. or III. Lysons, clxxi.

P. 129, line 4. Bried, a mistake for Briwere or Brewer. Dugdale, who spells the name Briwere, says that the first mention he had seen of the family was in the 26 of Hen. II. when Wm. de B. purchased lands in Devon; but Ralph de Bruera held three manors under Baldwin the sheriff, temp. Domesday survey. Wm. B., a powerful baron in the reign of King John and a great favourite of that monarch, was founder of Tor and Dunkeswell Abbeys. He was sheriff of Devon in 1179, 1189, 1200 and 1202. His son William died without issue in 1232. He died in 1226 (Dict. Nat. Biog.).

Arms.—Gu., 2 bends undy. Lysons' Devon, p. cvi. Pedigree of Briwere, Baker's Northants, ii, 239.

W. B., sen., Sheriff of Devon, 1179. W. B., jun., in 1224.

P. 129, line 12. Luke de Ponte Cardonis, i.e., Punchardun, a well known Devonshire family (see Lysons).

P. 129, line 32. Colebrook is a parish five miles from Crediton and thirteen from Exeter.

P. 131, line 13. Askerswell, a parish in Dorset.

P. 131, line 28. Warinus de Aula dedit Bodescombe eisdem sororibus (Dugdale, vi, 838). A charter of his is dated 1166, Red Book of the Exchequer, 256.

P. 132, line 17. Alderigch is perhaps Oldridge (a detached chapelry of the parish of St. Thomas) 6½ miles W. of Exeter.

P. 132, line 28. Walter Maudit is not given in the printed list of Sheriffs of Devon, which does not profess to be a complete list, he attests in 1185. See No. 261.

P. 132, line 31. The name Huscarl gives the clue to this grant Brichm is Bruton, and Borham is Bruham, Somerset Record Society, vol. viii (Index).

P. 133, line 18. Redcliffe in Bristol, see Nos. 233 and 234.

P. 134, line 4. Hospital of St. John Baptist at Bristol. Dugdale, vi, 670. See No. 119.

P. 134, line 17. This must be Knoll near Bristol.

P. 135, line 21. John, Count of Moretain, afterwards King John, so the date of the document is before 1199.

P. 136, line 18. Comite de Perche: see Red Bk. Exch. (Index) Pertico, Perchia.

P. 136, line 24. Feniton, a parish four miles from Honiton. The Malherbes were of Feniton, Lysons, clxviii.

P. 137, line 21. This master of Buckland has previously been called Ric. de Braunford. I suppose his birthplace was Brampford Speke in Devonshire. Meyne is Friar Mayne in Dorset.

P. 138, line 13. E. and W. Colwell in the parish of Offwell near Honiton.

P. 138, line 27. If this is (as I suspect) Heywood in the parish of Wembworthy, Devon, then Hamelegh would be the neighbouring parish of Chulmleigh; "Pauls" is close by on the Ordnance Map.

P. 139, line 18. Hadewise was wife of Richard de Redvers, 3rd Earl of Devon, Lord of the Isle of Wight, who died in 1162 (G. E. C.).

P. 139, line 29. Passmere of Passmere Hayes and Exeter, Lysons, clxxx.

P. 141, line 12. Walter, abbot of Hyde, 1222–4. Dugdale, ii, 431. There was another Walter in 1319.

P. 142, line 10. Thomas occurs Sept. 29, 1253. Dugdale, v, 678.

P. 142, line 11. Dunkswell is about six miles from Honiton, and eight miles from Wellington. Here William Briwere, in 1201, founded an abbey of the Cistercian Order. Its value at the dissolution was £294 18*s.* 6*d.* There are no remains of the monastic buildings.

P. 142, line 12. Ruffegreihega is probably Rouerige hodie Roridge in Up Ottery. Lysons' Devon, pp. lxxvi, 381.

P. 144, line 17. Sheldon is a parish six miles from Honiton.

P. 145, line 19. de Campo Ernulphi, Champhernul, Cambernun, Capernun, are all forms of the same name, Red Book of the Exchequer (Index).

P. 145, line 22. Gildescot, Lysons (p. lxvi) does not give its modern equivalent.

P. 146, line 5. Coffinswell, the Willa of this charter, a parish about three miles from Newton Abbot. Lysons, p. 124. The Coffins were of Portledge; they possessed the manor of Alwington, in which parish (about five miles from Bideford) Portledge is situated, as early as the reign of William I. Other branches of the family were of Combe-Coffin and Coffin's Well. Lysons, p. cxli.

P. 146, line 9. The Punchardons were of Punchardon in Kentisbear, and of Heanton Punchardon, Lysons, clxix.

P. 146, line 9. Hen. de Nonaunt, who held the honor of Totnes, is mentioned four times in the Index to the Red Book of the Exchequer.

P. 146, line 16. Walter de Bathona or Bada was Sheriff of Devon 1236–1251.

P. 146, line 22. Wöggahangre must be Wolhanger in the parish of Lynton. Lysons (p. 319) says that it belonged to the family of Pyne, who continued to possess it in 1620. The Coffins intermarried with the Pynes.

P. 147, line 8. At Totnes there was a Benedictine Priory.

P. 147, line 11. The Kaleways were of Mokesbeare or Muxbear in Halberton and Collumpton: Lysons, p. clxvii.

P. 147, line 18. Cheldon is a parish in the deanery of South Molton. The manor belonged to the Kaleways for several descents: Lysons, p. 99.

P. 148, line 20. There is a hamlet called Okebeare in Tavistock.

P. 148, line 24. The manor of Lifton was given by King John in 1199 to Agatha, who had been nurse to Eleanor the King's mother. She is probably the "domina Agatha" of this charter.

P. 149, line 11. The Peytevins were of Credy Peytevin in Upton Helion: Lysons, clxviii, p. 544.

P. 150, line 1. Worth, of Worth in Washfield, temp. Henry III.: Lysons, p. clix.

Inwardleigh is a parish four miles from Hatherleigh.

P. 151, line 4. The Wygers gave their name to Broadwood Wyger, a parish about thirteen miles from Okehampton: Lysons, p. 76.

P. 151, line 24. Histilton may be Ilsington, a parish five miles from Ashburton. Trybyhan is the preceptory of Trebigh or Trebyghen, Cornwall: see Hospitallers in England (Camden Society), p. 15.

P. 152, line 7. The Rous or Ruffus family were of Modbury. William Ruffus was Sheriff of Devon in 1175.

There is a place called Sydenham in Mary Stow.

P. 152, line 17. Robert, Earl of Gloucester (died 1147), was a natural son of Henry I.; for an account of him see Dict. Nat. Biog.

P. 152, line 25. The Avenells were of Loxbear, about four miles from Tiverton, and of Sheepwash, four and a half miles from Hatherleigh: Lysons, pp. clxi, 322, 438. I think that Calm̃l is Calverleigh, a parish touching Loxbear and about two miles from Tiverton. It is spelt in many ways, Calodelie, Kalwoodley, etc.: Lysons, p. 94. There is a hamlet called Hill in it (see Ordnance Map), so that Hole should be Hele (Hill), as in No. 271.

There is a place called Cudlipptown in Tavistock.

P. 153, line 1. 1166. Robertus filius Ilgeri feodum dimidii militis (Devon). Red Bk. Exch., p. 253. The list on this page and on page 254 contains many names mentioned in this Cartulary.

P. 153, line 25. St. Rumon was commemorated on October 23rd. He was a bishop whose body once reposed in Tavistock Abbey, where he was honoured as a patron. The churches now named in his honour are Langhorne, Ryan, Ruan Major and Ruan Minor in Cornwall and Romansleigh in Devon. (Parker's Calendar of the Anglican Church.)

P. 154, line 11. Hulburclyst (a name unknown to Lysons) must be a portion of Clist Hydon, a parish about four miles from Collumpton. The manor belonged from a very early period to the ancient family of Hidon: Lysons, p. 118. Richard de Hydone [tenet] Madeschay (Devon) per serjanteriam. (Red Bk. Exch., 452.)

P. 154, line 26. The Peverells were of Ermington, Sampford Peverell and Wolmerston: Lysons, clxviii. MS. reads Pevellus but Peverello in list of witnesses.

P. 155, line 8. If this is Broad Hembury it is about five and a half miles from Collumpton.

P. 155, line 22. Apparently there is no such word as goalia, but Ducange explains Gaola as "Locus palustris, carectis seu gladiolis abundans," and gives the following quotation: "Et quod omnimodæ concessiones . . . de aliquibus Gaolis vestris, sive de aliquo herbagio, etc."

P. 156, line 1. Paganel, Baron of Bampton: Lysons cvi.

P. 156, line 18. Ashleigh in Tamerton may be meant: for the Pagane family seem to have held some land in that parish (see Lysons, p. 471, note m).

P. 157, line 1. For an account of the Giffard family see Lysons, p. cxcvii. The Giffards of Wear Giffard were extinct temp. Henry III.: Ibid., p. clxv.

P. 158, line 3. "Cradocumbe" may be one of the many spellings of Creacombe in Holbeton, a parish three miles from Modbury, see Lysons, lxii, where Crabecombe, Crauuecome and Crawecome are given as other forms of the same name. [See No. 252.]

P. 158, line 26. There are two places called Galmpton, one in South Huish and one in Churston Ferrers.

P. 158, line 30. Hen. de Fungeres. He may be a descendant of Ralph de Fulgeriis, to whom the manor of Ipplepen was given by William the Conqueror. Lysons, p. 294.

P. 159, line 10. Bartholomew, bishop of Exeter (1161–1184).

P. 159, line 11. There are two parishes called Halwell in Devon, one a vicarage three miles from Totnes, but the one referred to in the charter is about six and a half miles from Holsworthy and is a rectory (see Hingeston-Randolph's Bp. Stafford's Reg., p. 176) in that deanery.

P. 159, line 26. The parish of Rackenford is eight miles from Tiverton.

P. 160, line 1. David, bishop of St. Davids, 1147–1176 ; Robert Chichester, bishop of Exeter, 1138–1155 ; Robert Warelwast, bishop of Exeter, 1155–1161.

P. 160, line 24. Hugh de Ralega was Sheriff of Devon in 1160.

P. 161, line 6. There is Holcombe Burnell, four miles from Exeter, and Holcombe Rogus, nine miles from Tiverton.

P. 161, line 17. Nigel is given in Domesday Book eight times as holding manors in Devon under Juhel de Totnais, and once Nigel and Robert hold under the Abbot of Tavistock.

In 1129 Geoffry de Furnellis was Sheriff of Devon.

P. 162, line 1. Dittisham, seven miles from Totnes.

P. 163, line 5. There are no less than nine hamlets called Upcot in Devon.

P. 163, line 11. Langtree is about three and a half miles from Torrington.

P. 163, line 17. Langeford is in Nymet Tracey (see Ordnance Map).

P. 163, line 23. Iddesleigh is three miles from Hatherleigh.

The form Edwieslegia gives a clue to the derivation of the name.

Ash-Reigny and Eggesford, which belonged to the Reigny family, are not far from Iddesleigh.

Richard de Renni is probably one of this family.

P. 164, line 12. William, Earl of Gloucester (1147–83), succeeded his father Robert, Earl of Gloucester, natural son of Hen. I. William was born in 1121, succeeded to the Earldom 1147 and d.s.p.m. 1183, when the earldom reverted to the crown. He was twice married : his only son and heir Robert died unmarried in 1166 or 1170, and in his memory his father erected the Abbey of Keynsham. (G. E. C.'s Complete Peerage.)

P. 165, line 8. Moels, Baron Moels or Mules.

Nicholas de Moels, who married the heiress of Newmarch, temp. Hen. III., was descended from Roger de Molis, who possessed Lew and other estates in Devon at the time of the Domesday Survey. Lysons, c.

P. 165, line 26. Hertilond is Hartland.

The Tracys were of Wollacombe Tracy in Morthoe. Lysons, cv, clxxi.

P. 166, line 7. Bridford Mill is in Bridford, a small parish nine miles south-west by west, from Exeter (Kelly).
